Mr Schnellbügel has a long industry experience and is specialized in the retail sector. Leading the committee is a new challenge he is welcoming with pleasure. "Sport 2000 is one of the major retailers in the world and has to be present in this very important committee. It is my pleasure to take the responsibility to chair it", says Mr Schnellbügel.

Wolfgang Schnellbügel started his career in the sporting goods industry with apprenticeship in wholesale and foreign trade followed by commercial studies. He occupied positions like Director Marketing and Sales and Business Unit Manager and entered Sport 2000 as Managing Director Sport 2000 Deutschland. He reached his position at Sport 2000 International in 2006.

Together with the committee members, they will form an important and balanced group to handle all the IOC and International Federation issues.

The CISO Committee represents the WFSGI as the industry consensus voice to all sports federations and organizations by promoting maximum and equal benefit to all WFSGI members and the sporting goods manufacturers' community at large. The current Committee agenda involves detailed coordination with the IOC and other International Sports Federations on brand exposure at and around sanctioned events, including; kit specifications; advertising; restriction of ambush marketing; Olympic ticketing and technical accreditations for WFSGI members; and much more.

"We are proud to welcome Mr Schnellbügel in this important role. His experience, knowledge and neutral view will positively influence the work of the committee" says Mr John Larsen, WFSGI President.
